

Paddock Shatters Two Worlds' Sprint Records and Equals Another in California Meet

90 and 110 Yd. Marks Topped; 'Century' Tied

West Coast Marvel Clocked in Sensational Time in Title Meet Tryouts

PASADENA, Calif., June 18.—Charles W. Paddock broke the world's record for the 90 and 110-yard runs and tied the record for 100 yards at tryouts held here today for the National A. U. championship meet, according to the official timing. Paddock ran 90 yards in 8.4 seconds, 100 yards in 9.3-5 and 110 yards in 10.1-5.

The accepted records for the distances are 9.1-5, 9.3-5 and 10.4-5 seconds, respectively. The tryouts were held under the supervision of Robert S. Weaver, A. U. president.

Paddock's time for the three distances was caught in the 110-yard dash, tapes being stretched at 90 and 100 yards as well as at the finish.

The previous marks for 90 and 110 yards do not appear in the official record book, the nearest being 100 meters, which is equivalent to 109.36 yards. Don Lippincott, of the University of Pennsylvania, is accredited this record, having run the distance in 10.06 at the Olympic games in 1912.

Paddock's time of 9.3-5 for 100 yards equals the record jointly held by himself and Howard Drew.

Paddock recently established new records for 100, 200, 300 meters, 220 and 800 yards.

Illinois University Athletes Triumph in Title Struggle

Evenly Balanced Team Captures Point Trophy Without Getting a First Place

CHICAGO, June 18.—An evenly balanced team, which scored points in ten of fifteen events without capturing a single first place today, brought national honors to the University of Illinois by carrying off first place in the national collegiate athletic association meet at Stagg Field, a contest open only to champion athletes and entered by more than three-score of the country's colleges and universities.

Earl Thomson of Dartmouth tied his own world's record of 6:14.2-5 in winning the 120-yard high hurdles final despite the fact that he stumbled just before the first hurdle.

Pope, of University of Washington, won individual star with ten points, obtained through firsts in the shot-put and discus.

Following is the official table of points scored:

- 14; University of Notre Dame, 17; Iowa, 16; University of Washington, 12; Wisconsin, 10; Nebraska, 8; Grinnell, 7; Northwestern, 6; Ohio State, 6; Ames, 5; Dartmouth, 5; Chicago, 5; Kansas, 4; Michigan, 4; Penn. State, 4; Pennsylvania, 4; Stanford, 4; Minnesota, 4; Oregon, 3; Washington State, 2; Yale, 2; Georgia Tech, 2; Knox, 2; Princeton, 2; Cornell, 2; Texas A. & M., 1; St. Olaf, 1; Rice Institute, 1; Ohio Wesleyan, 1.

U. S. Soldiers to Play British Nine July 4

LONDON, June 18 (By The Associated Press).—Some homeland color will be lent the Fourth of July celebration by Americans in London through an exhibition of baseball between teams representing the American troops on the Rhine and the American naval forces in Europe.

The game, which probably will be played on the Stamford Bridge grounds, where a bronze tablet commemorates the visit some years ago of the Chicago American League team, will be under the auspices of the London Post and the American Legion and many other Anglo-American organizations will co-operate. The proceeds will go to the legion treasury and to charity.

Huntington Horse Show

The Huntington Horse Show will open next Friday on the lawn of the recently acquired Huntington Bay Club with 400 entries. There is to be a session Friday and two on Saturday. Forty-three classes will be competed for, with one that will arouse exceptionally wide attention, the Hunter Championship of Long Island.

Canadian Chess Expert Enters

Captain J. B. Harvey, of Feneelon Falls, Ont., one of the leading chess players in Canada, has sent his entry for the masters' tournament to be held in connection with the Eighth Annual Chess Congress on the Million Dollar Pier, Atlantic City, July 6-20.

The Days of Real Sport

DISCUSSING THE NEW ARRIVAL

The SPORTLIGHT

Copyright 1921, New York Tribune Inc.

PARIS, June 18.

American sportsmen in Europe to-day are looking with anxious eyes toward the impending polo and golf tests that may help redeem the American downfall in so many fields to date. Light will break through the gray shadows if Milburn can lead his team to victory at Hurlingham and Hutchinson, Barnes or Hagen can triumph at St. Andrews.

The polo team, men and ponies, are resting up after the hardest training siege that even the veteran Milburn had ever known, with the ponies still suffering from constant galloping over fields baked to granite hardness, due to England's longest drought.

"An even chance," is Captain Milburn's final prophecy. "Both sides have worked their hardest to be right, and there will be no excuses if we lose."

The combination of Stoddard, Hitchcock, Webb and Milburn has shown the greatest strength of any American selection and they will play themselves out to win. England, pessimistic in the early training weeks, is now more confident, and is banking heavily upon the greater international experience of the veteran four. All are lean, brown Englishmen and almost sure to be at their best form under fire.

Major Lockett will start the big match, riding John Por, a pony trained in France and twice wounded in the war.

The American strategy will depend largely upon a rushing attack, hoping to break through early by a faster pace and harder hitting. Getting the jump will bring a big advantage, but if this early rush is checked by the English defense the advantage will rest with the more conservative British tactics. Much depends upon how young Hitchcock rises to the occasion against much more experienced opponents, but Milburn and others are confident that his dash and skill will be unimpaired by fluttering nerves, despite his extreme youth and the importance of the occasion.

Americans from many sections of Europe are headed for Hurlingham, where tickets are already bringing fancy prices.

Meanwhile American golfers are turning in low scores at the St. Andrews preliminary practice rounds, with Hagen, Hutchinson and French steadily shooting between 71 and 74. Hagen is extremely anxious to make a fine showing, in order to wipe out his terrific collapse last year at Deal, where his game broke utterly. He is playing much better than a year ago, drawing praise from British critics, who also believe Hutchinson must be rated high.

Bigotry and intolerance still play their part in human affairs. One nation can't understand why other nations should think differently about the same subject. The English can't see baseball and we can't see cricket. Therefore, to the American cricket is a terrible thing and to the English baseball is even worse. Whereas, both happen to be very fine games for the people who play them and know them.

For a golf course the British believe largely in dips and knobs, sharp rises and deep hollows down the middle of their fairways. Nature left many of their courses so, and they string with nature. The British idea is that one should know how to play from every type of terrain.

We can see their idea to a certain extent, but we like the American way better, where fairways, if rolling, are at least not nearly so lumpy.

To us it looks to be fairer golf. One man gets a fine drive and is left with a level lie. The opponent, just as straight, drives five yards further and has to use a mashie in place of a brassie to clear some sudden, abrupt upheaval in the soil. Luck plays a big enough factor as it is. It would be well enough to have these abrupt dips and rises to the right and left of the course, with the middle left open.

There is far from being any strong unanimity between countless golfers in Great Britain and the ruling committee. The disagreement is frequently wide, but the R. and A. rules with an iron hand. There is deep dissatisfaction in many quarters over retaining the present list of championship courses, many of which are considered out of date. We are not here offering the opinions of Americans, but of British players. But there will probably be no change for some time to come, despite the fact that some of the greatest British courses, courses much better than types such as Hoylake and Deal, are not on the list.

There is still another difference. To the British the most skillful shot in golf is the pitch and run. To the American it is the backspin approach close against the pin. "Your courses," remarked Cyril Tolley, "are not built for our best type of stroke. Ours are not built for your best method of approach. I fancy that has more than a little to do with the failure on both sides where each is in the enemy country. I could not use the pitch and run effectively at the Engineers' Club, and that accounts largely for my downfall there."

In spite of these differences, the international debate will be continued, Travis, Hilton, Vardon and Ray have proved that these handicaps can be overcome by the visiting golfer. The British have three championship victories in America to our one in England, but that doesn't mean that America will cease firing or that Great Britain is satisfied with her few successes.

The three greatest courses in Great Britain to-day are Westward Ho, Prestwick and Gleanegle. Gleanegle has only lately been completed, but it is a wonderful test of golf, much better liked than St. Andrews or Hoylake.

Westward Ho is unbeatable as a golfing domain and Prestwick isn't very far behind. Which reminds us that the next two amateur championships of the United States will be held at Brookline, 1922, and Pine Valley, 1923. And these two will rank as high as any in the land.

Yale Varsity Defeats Freshmen in Trial Spin

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 18.—In a trial spin on the Thames to-day under good weather conditions, the Yale varsity crew defeated the freshmen and second varsity eights over a two-mile course. The varsity finished a half length ahead of the freshmen, with the junior varsity last. The varsity time was 9:48, the freshmen 9:50 and the junior varsity 10:10.

The varsity stroke averaged 31, and the finish was up to 36. The freshmen stroke varied between 30 and 34. The coaches were well pleased with the showing of the eights.

Actors to Play Two Games

A treat will be offered the patrons of Bronx Field this afternoon, when the National Vaudeville Artists team will meet the New Bronx Giants in a double header. Little Rita Rogan, famous juvenile motion picture star, who is mascot of the actors' aggregation, will throw out the first ball.

Rommel Out of Game

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—Edward Rommel, leading pitcher of the Athletics, will be out of the game for at least a week because of an infected finger, Manager Mack announced to-day.

13-Year-Old Girl Beats Miss Boyle in Handicap Swim

Miss Ederle Wins 220-Yard Race in Fast Time; Miss Baker Takes Dive

Miss Gertrude Ederle, the thirteen-year-old Metropolitan A. A. U. junior 100-yard champion, gave a remarkable exhibition of speed at a water carnival for members of the New York Women's S. A. at Manhattan Beach yesterday. Competing in a 220-yard handicap, she scored a clean-cut victory, covering the distance over a 110-yard course in the actual time of 3 minutes 7 seconds.

Miss Aileen Riggins, the little Olympic fancy diving champion, finished second from the 22-second mark, and Miss Charlotte Boyle, world's record holder at 150 yards, took third from scratch, her own time being 2 minutes 57.4 seconds.

A 440-yard scratch swim for girls who never won prizes in championships brought out six starters. Until Boyle's victory the field was bunched. But on the last lap Miss Maudie McFarlane went to the fore, closely followed by Miss Helen Briscoe, with Miss Lillian Stoddard, thirteen, and Kathryn Brown, ten, fighting it out for third place. They finished in this order, Miss McFarlane winning by a few feet in 7 minutes 28.4-5 seconds.

Miss Ederle Baker, a twelve-year-old prodigy, furnished the surprise in fancy diving handicap from the twelve-foot springboard, running up a fine score of 96.8 points from the five-point mark and securing first place. Miss Kathryn Brown, with an allowance of 16 points and a total of 93.4 points, was second, and Miss Aileen Riggins, on scratch, took third, with 91.4 points.

Mrs. Hazelle Zeitz won a 100-yard handicap swim in the actual time of 1 minute 31.4-5 seconds.

The summary:

220-yard swim, championship prize winners only (handicap)—Won by Miss Gertrude Ederle (18 seconds); Miss Aileen Riggins (22 seconds); second, Miss Charlotte Boyle (scratch), third, Time, 3:07.4-5.

440-yard swim, championship prize winners barred—Won by Miss Maudie McFarlane (23 seconds); second, Miss Lillian Stoddard, third, Time, 7:28.4-5.

100-yard swim (handicap)—Won by Miss Hazelle Zeitz (26 seconds); second, Miss Kathryn Brown (23 seconds); third, Miss Aileen Riggins (22 seconds), Time, 1:31.4-5.

50-yard swim, girls under thirteen (handicap)—Won by Miss Helen Briscoe (18 seconds); second, Miss Virginia Wilson (18 seconds); third, Time, 2:04.0-5.

50-yard blind-fold race—Won by Miss Charlotte Boyle (15 points); second, Miss Aileen Riggins (15 points); third, Miss Helen Briscoe (15 points), Time, 2:04.0-5.

100-yard diving (handicap)—Won by Miss Ederle Baker (5 points); 26.8 points; Miss Kathryn Brown (15 points); 32.4 points; second, Miss Aileen Riggins (scratch), 91.4 points, third.

Four American Yachts Shipped for Cup Race

The four six-meter yachts which are to sail a series of races against four British yachts of similar size and type are to be shipped on the steamship Francesca, which sails next Saturday. The Francesca will put into Cowes Roadstead, where the racing craft will be transferred to a lighter and taken to a yacht yard at Cowes, where they will fit out for the international races.

The first of the six races will be sailed on Wednesday, July 29, under the auspices of the Royal Yacht Squadron. The international match will be the chief feature of the two weeks racing of Cowes, and three of the races will be under the auspices of the Royal Yacht Squadron and one each under the auspices of the Royal Victoria, Royal London and Royal Thames Yacht Club.

Landis to Watch Yellowhorse

PITTSBURGH, June 18.—Chief Yellowhorse will pitch for the Pirates against the Phillies on Monday for benefit of Judge Landis, commissioner of baseball, according to tentative arrangements made to-day. Judge Landis has called a conference of National American League owners here on that date to discuss "certain rules." Judge Landis, it was said, had never seen Yellowhorse pitch and expressed a desire to Manager Gibson last spring to see the redskin in action.

Costello Victor in Shell

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—Paul Costello, Vesper Boat Club, who won John Kelly, a climber, won the Olympic doubles championship, proved the victor to-day in the senior singles championship race in the Navy Day regatta limited to local oarsmen. He defeated George W. Allison, of the Undine Boat Club.

Dartmouth Chooses Brown

HANOVER, N. H., June 18.—Leroy T. Brown, of New York, holder of the Dartmouth high jump record, was elected track captain to-day.

Sarles Victor In Auto Race In Uniontown

Miller Finishes 2d; Winner Leads Most of Way; Averages 97.75 Miles an Hour

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 18.—Roscoe Sarles, driving a Duesenberg, won the 225-Mile Universal Trophy automobile race here to-day, crossing the finish line three-quarters of a lap in front of Eddie Hearne in a Revue. The race, which was held at the Uniontown track, was won by Sarles in 2 hours, 18 minutes and 57 seconds. The time of Miller, who ran third, was 2 hours, 20 minutes and 52 seconds.

Sarles averaged 97.75 miles an hour, while Hearne 97.25 and Miller 97.00. The first accident of the Universal Trophy automobile race here to-day occurred on the 128th lap, when the machine driven by J. Klingbe, Indianapolis, threw a tire and the car turned over. The driver and his mechanic were thrown from the machine, and when picked up from the track both were unconscious.

This was Ellingbo's first appearance on the Speedway here. Wallace Butler, the mechanic, was cut and bruised. Physicians who examined Ellingbo at a hospital said that while he had suffered severe cuts and other injuries he would recover.

Clinton High Coach Appointed to Direct Columbia Athletics

The first steps in the inauguration of the new athletic and physical education program at Columbia have been accomplished. Secretary Packenham announced yesterday that William ("Doc") Cook, for seven years athletic director at De Witt Clinton High School, had been appointed assistant professor of the department of physical education at Columbia. Mr. Cook will act, as well as coach of the freshman football, baseball, track and basketball teams, and as general athletic adviser to the faculty.

The yearlings are to be the special object of the new curriculum of athletic activity and physical education, which will take its place with the regular academic program during the coming year. Cook, it was announced, will coordinate the work of the other coaches and aid in developing freshmen for the high school of sport for which they are best fitted.

Ward Defeats Oelsner For N. J. Tennis Title

Vanderbilt's B. Ward, of New York, won the men's lawn tennis championship of New Jersey yesterday afternoon by defeating Edward C. Oelsner, of Montclair, by a score of 6-1, 10-8, 6-2 in the final round of the singles on the courts of the Montclair Athletic Club.

Oelsner, who has been playing the best tennis he has shown in several years this season, made a desperate battle for the honors in the first and second sets, but in the third he weakened and Ward finished strongly, allowing his opponent only two games in the final set.

The new champion nullified the effect of Oelsner's chop strokes somewhat by closing in quickly as the ball was positioned and cutting off the ball with crisp volleys. The Montclair man was always threatening, however, and it was only after many grueling rallies that Ward was able to clinch his victory. The final round match in the doubles will be played this afternoon.

The Dixie Flyer

The Logical Car

Usage has proven The Dixie Flyer the logical car for men of wisdom and foresight. Logical in that it combines all the desired characteristics of modern car construction and performance. Decisive and dependable action, speed, power, beauty, comfort, serviceability, and—in addition—economy. These are not merely conventional claims—they are facts based on actual experience of users and the test of usage. That the present model of The Dixie Flyer should have made good in such a complete and unprecedented way is not surprising. For back of the car there is a company which for over forty years has been acquiring an intimate knowledge of road requirements in all sections of the country. There are engineers who have conceived and co-ordinated a car capable of fulfilling these requirements efficiently and economically. There are designers who have sensed the future trend of body lines and have given The Dixie Flyer proportions of grace and distinction. There are skilled craftsmen, faithful and painstaking in execution. There is a permanent service organization, national in scope, assuring owners everywhere of real and continued car satisfaction. Determine for yourself why The Dixie Flyer is the logical car for you.

We want you to know the exceptional advantages of Dixie construction and performance, not alone through statements of fact, but rather through actual contact with the car.
